Year C

Second Sunday in Ordinary Time

Entrance Antiphon

All the earth shall bow down
before you, O God,
and shall sing to you,
shall sing to your name,
O Most High!

Responsorial Psalm

Proclaim his marvellous deeds to all the nations.

Gospel Acclamation

Alleluia, alleluia!

God has called us with the gospel to share in the glory of our Lord Jesus Christ.

Alleluia!

Response to Prayers of the Faithful

Lord, hear us we pray.

Communion Antiphon

You have prepared a table
before me,
and how precious is the chalice that quenches my thirst.

Second Sunday in Ordinary Time

We begin the year of Luke (as too with the other
2 years!) with the gospel of John!
The lovely wedding feast at Cana story.
As we begin Ordinary Time, we give thanks for all the blessings of the Christmas season.

Questions to Ponder...

- Q. In the first reading from Isaiah we see our relationship to God as that of a bride and bridegroom. One metaphor alone cannot contain the mystery of our covenant with God. In what ways is this metaphor helpful and true for you in your spiritual journey?
- Q. In the psalm we are encouraged to "sing to the Lord a new song." Where might God be calling you to "newness" in your own life?
- Q. Read through the list of spiritual gifts in the second reading (1 Cor 12: 8-10). What gifts do you recognise in your own life and community? Which gifts are your community in need of at this moment in time?
- Q. Jesus' signs disclose himself and the kingdom of God to us. What does today's gospel about the wedding feast in Cana reveal to you about Jesus' nature and kingdom?

Asphalting Great theory to get over in a week! Too hot they say – SORRY. We'll keep you posted re when you can park your cars.

GOSPEL FOCUS

The best wine

The steward comments that the best wine had been kept until the end of the wedding celebration – a clever use of an image for Jesus. Remembering the use of wedding imagery to describe the relationship between the people of Israel and God, the wedding feast is celebration of that relationship, and at the very heart of the celebration and the relationship is Jesus. He is the best wine that is kept until the end – the ‘finishing touch’ to a magnificent celebration, just as he is the ‘finishing touch’ to the relationship between God and God’s people to that point.

More Questions to Ponder...

- Q. Why do you think Mary brings the wine issue to Jesus' attention?
- Q. Why might Jesus have been reluctant to perform a miracle at this time?
- Q. Why does Mary seem to force the issue when Jesus has tried to side-step it?
- Q. What might the servants have said to one another after the wedding banquet?

Excerpt from “Living Baptism Daily”...

When we share the body and blood of the Lord, we must always remember that we share it with all the other members of his body. Communion is never a private matter between Jesus and me. It always unites me to all those who share the one bread and one cup.

Please do not look at life from the balcony, but commit yourself, immerse yourselves in the large social and political dialogue.

Counselling at St John's Heidelberg

If you have a lot on your mind, it can be helpful to talk with a counsellor. A private and confidential space is offered in the newly appointed counselling room at St John's Parish House, Heidelberg. Julie Jensen provides this free service to parishioners. She specialises in the loss and grief associated with experiencing life events. Julie holds post graduate qualifications in counselling and is a Certified Bereavement Practitioner recognised by the Australian Centre for Grief and Bereavement. For more information, please contact Julie on 0411 241 005 or julie@changesinbetween.com

Gathered Around the Table A preacher was completing a temperance sermon. With great expression he said, "If I had all the beer in the world, I'd take it and throw it into the river." With even greater emphasis he said, "And if I had all the wine in the world, I'd take it and throw it into the river." And in conclusion, he said, "And if I had all the whiskey in the world, I'd take it and throw it into the river." He sat down. The song leader then stood very cautiously and announced with a smile, "For our closing song, let us sing hymn number 365: 'Shall We Gather at the River.'"

Inspirational Quotes From Christian Meditation Network

Faithfulness to the mantra, from beginning to end, brings us to simplicity because it enables us to leave self behind. Our survival, spiritually and physically, depends on recovering an awareness of the redeeming power of poverty, purity and simplicity.

This is the way of the mantra. 'It is not ourselves we proclaim; we proclaim Christ Jesus and ourselves as servants for Jesus' sake.' (2 Cor 4:5)

N.B.: Holy Hour will be celebrated as usual at 6.30pm

Our primary guide through the two parts of this year's Ordinary Time is the gospel writer Luke. Each of the four gospels has a unique perspective on the story of Jesus. Scripture scholar Brendan Byrne SJ suggests reading Luke through the lens of hospitality – both human and divine. The divine visitor-guest, Jesus Christ, returns the hospitality he receives. What he offers is the "hospitality of God" that invites humanity and creation into a home where salvation may be experienced (The Hospitality of God. Sydney: St Paul's, 2000). Luke's gospel is also distinguished by the fact that it does not stand alone, it has a companion volume, the Acts of the Apostles. On the Sundays of Ordinary Time we hear an Old Testament reading (accompanied by a psalm) that in some ways relates to the gospel. This year the independent second reading comes from a greater variety of New Testament writings than usual. There are extracts from Paul's letters to the Corinthians, Galatians, Thessalonians and Philemon, from letters attributed to Paul (Colossians and 1 and 2 Timothy), and from the letter to the Hebrews (of unknown authorship). A rich feast of the word of God lies before us.
